NEWARK, CENTERVILLE FIRE DISTRICTS IN TUG-OF-WAR OVER GLENMOOR TRACT

The Newark Fire District today struck back at statements made last week by neighboring Centerville regarding protection of the Glenmoor Homes tract, which lies partly in Newark's district and partly in Centerville.

A letter from Fire Chief Joe Pashote of Newark advised the Glenmoor homeowners their taxes and insurance rates will be lower if they stick with Newark.

Last week a Centerville fire commissioner, Fred Rogers, said he told his firemen to advise Glenmoorians who live on the Newark side of the line that Centerville no longer will answer their phone calls in case of fire.

This week, Centerville Chamber of Commerce members again discussed the fire-district boundaries. All agreed that the tract-dwellers should be the ones to petition to change.

"The Freeway probably will take care of the issue, by dividing Centerville and Newark so sharply," commented Judge Allen G. Norris. "But meantime we should see that if Newark incorporates, the city doesn't take land to the limits of its fire district."

LeRoy Broun added: "That's what's caused this commotion in Irvington — they're afraid they'll lose the PG&E plant to Newark."

Pashote declared: "From statements recently made in The Township Register by elements of the Centerville Fire District, it would appear that the Newark Fire Department was unwilling or incapable of providing that portion of Glenmoor Homes lying within Newark District boundaries with fire protection. This of course is grossly unfounded."

"The residents of Glenmoor Homes residing within the Newark Fire District boundaries should consider the following points very carefully:

1. The area in question has been in the Newark Fire District for over twenty-one years, taken into the district when other fire departments didn't want to serve them.

2. The Newark Fire District had a tax rate in 1952-53 fiscal of 34 cents per hundred dollars assessed valuation, while Centerville had a tax rate of 45 cents. In 1953-54

TOWNSHIP SCHOOLS READY TO OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 10

Washington Township schools were stirring this week with plans for their fall opening on September 10, anticipating an extra burden of anywhere from 200 to 500 more youngsters.

School opened last September with 3883 pupils in class. By the start of the second week, 4553 students were enrolled. By June, when school closed, this had gone over the 5000 mark for the first time in Township history.

Most principals today explained pre-school registrations were completed last spring. However several, including Washington Union High, announced additional sign-ups will be held for the children who have moved into this region during the summer.

At Washington Hi, Supt. J. V. Gould said new students may register on September 4, in the morning, and after 2:30 p.m.; and on September 8 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

September 7—Labor Day, and September 9—Admission Day—are holidays in all schools, so authorities have decreed classes won't start until Thursday, September 10. Washington Hi also announced a new schedule of classes, with eight 50-minute periods instead of seven hour-long periods, to accommodate the anticipated increase in enrollment.

Gould said classes will start at 8 a.m., and that lunch hours will be staggered, with one from 11:47 to 12:22, and another from 12:41 to 1:16. "Activity period," from 2:14 to 2:34, will take care of all assemblies and class meetings.

Eight new teachers have been hired. Gould's office said a jump in enrollment is anticipated, but couldn't say how much yet. The school closed in June with 782. Local eighth-grade graduates totaled over 300, compared to the usual 200.

At Centerville, Supt. Tom Maloney said registration of new kindergarten pupils will take place on September 4, from 9 a.m. until noon. It will be held at the Main Street school, under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Bawden, new kindergarten teacher, aided by Mrs. Mary S. Rodrigues.

In Decoto, Supt. Howard Schoenfeldt advised parents of new students to bring them to his office after September 1, explaining secretaries will be on duty to enroll them. Decoto expects another 60 students, mostly at Hillview Crest, to augment the 1190 it ended with in June.

At Irvington, Supt. Gus Robertson said pre-school registration for new pupils will be conducted at his school during the week of August 30-September 4.

Robertson estimated 500 students will be registered when classes get under full steam. Irvington ended last year with 420 children. Three new teachers have been hired—Glen L. Tremayne, Robert Anderson and Mrs. Vernal Silva.

Imminence of the Conway & Culligan tract and other subdivisions around Irvington this week had Robertson racking his brains in an effort to plan for two or three more schools in his district.

At Newark, parents of all new students are asked to register them on September 1, between 9 a.m. and noon.

Kindergarten entrants must be 4 years, 9 months old or older on September 1, and entering primary students a year older than that, according to State law.

At Washington Hi, Vice-Principal Irving Hird said student body cards will be on sale opening day, September 10, and advised students to bring the $5 to purchase them. The price includes the school yearbook this year, he added.

Eight Named to Map Reorganization Of Township Chamber of Commerce

A committee charged with finding a way to enlarge dues-paying membership of the Township Chamber of Commerce was authorized Monday at a meeting of the organization.

President Maurice B. Marks also told the committee, of which he will be a member, to "formulate a (Township promotion) policy which we can sell to industries" to attract them into joining.

Members are Paul Gyax, Newark, chairman; LeRoy Broun of Centerville, C. W. Chrysler of Niles, Manuel Hidalgo of Decoto, Gus Robertson of Irvington, Bruce Michael of Warm Springs, and George Vargas of Alvarado.

Marks asked Gyax to have both plan and policy ready for a vote of chamber delegates on September 28, so that they can be approved by town chambers and finally adopted in October.

Marks said several industries have signified they would join as "sponsors" to insure an active Chamber, though they might balk at large assessments to promote the Township. He said they feel this already is being done by the Alameda County New Industries Committee, a branch of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

Both Hidalgo and Marks said Mission San Jose and Decoto, which they represent, would approve organization of the chamber, but don't want their voting power reduced by opening the gates to new classifications. Now, only the eight towns have a vote.

Broun countered that "maybe three delegates from industry, three from business, and three from the public at large" might be a compromise solution, and still not overbalance the towns' total of 24 delegates.

Trespass citations were issued Tuesday for the arrest of 11 men, as hillside ranchers near Niles declared war on destructive deer hunters.

The warrants were issued by Judge E. A. Quaresma and specify $50 bail. They are out for: D. C. Shipman, Charles Marin,

NILES CLEANUP OF STREETS, SHOPS?

A clean-up, paint-up campaign for Niles was advocated Tuesday before the local Chamber of Commerce.

Members backed by President C. W. Chrysler suggested (1) that new trash cans be purchased, (2) that volunteer firemen hose down the business streets once a week, and (3) that merchants paint and redecorate their stores to attract trade.

C. K. Dennis, water company manager, pointed out that if the firemen wash the streets, his company will have to charge metered rates for the water—$1.60 per 750 gallons.

Chrysler said the issue will be referred to the Merchants' Committee—which promoted the recent successful Esanay festival—for action at its next meeting.

County Planners Disregard Wish Of Local Interests, Cotton Says

Local opinion is being flouted by county planning technicians, a Newark delegate charged this week at the Township Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Gordon Cotton, frequent observer at Planning Commission hearings, declared the rezoning of Newark proved this contention.

"A great deal of development and enterprise is being held back," he asserted. "We are being used as guinea pigs."

"We think we know more about our town and land uses there, and that our recommendations should have been more heavily weighed."

Cotton said areas around industrial plants were rezoned for residences, and that only after heated protests were the actions reconsidered. New sets of hearings on the issue are now scheduled.

On motion of V. O. Kaehler of Newark, the chamber resolved to write the Supervisors demanding that the commission's technical staff "give reasons in writing" whenever it "changes specific zoning requested by local groups."

LeRoy Broun of Centerville joined in with a criticism of planning staff recommendations that Township towns "preserve their individuality." Broun, an advocate of Township-wide incorporation, declared:

"They're just trying to hold us apart so they can impose their ideas on us individually."

At the Centerville Chamber luncheon earlier in the day, Eugene Manning successfully moved to ask the Planning Commission to explain whether the separate-town idea represents its official policy. Manning declared:

"We are supposed to be thinking Township-wide. Are we at loggersheads with the commission?"

COUNTY SEWER FEE HIT BY CHAMBER

Conflicting sewage laws and duplicate inspection fees were rapped Monday at the Washington Township Chamber of Commerce. Acting on a request by George Coit, chairman of the Union Sanitary District, members asked the Board of Supervisors to exempt his district from county fees and inspections.

Coit explained that the sanitary district has been battling the county for years because, although the district's requirements for sewage connections are stricter, the county also insists on inspection by its employees.

Latest development, Coit said, is a Legislative bill, effective September 10, whereby county ordinances govern installations outside a home, and district rules inside. District inspection fees are $2.50, Coit added, but county fees of $6 or more are added on top of them.

CENTERVILLE PLANS CONFAB ON SEPT. 12

Slated for the night of September 14 is a public meeting to put the finishing touches on a town-plan for Centerville.

The date was set Monday by the local chamber of commerce. The public will be invited to hear county planning experts explain the topic. Such a plan must be adopted before protective zoning can be accomplished.

Further details will be announced.

TOWNSHIP C.C. MEET A GREAT LOOSENER

Reports of restrictions on use of the County Building for public meetings developed a laugh at the Centerville Chamber of Commerce luncheon Monday.

Allan Walton said he heard the courtroom couldn't be used as formerly "because during the last meeting, they loosened up a lot of seats." Someone retorted:

"That may have been the Township Chamber meeting," referring to a particularly stormy session.

Today however, Mrs. Byrde Duffey, secretary here for Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, said the only new restriction was against smoking in the courtroom, even during night meetings. She said this is at the request of Judge E. A. Quaresma.

SHOOTS AT MATE, THEN SUICIDES

Funeral services were held Wednesday from Chapel of the Palms for Jacob Arnold, 45, cement company employee, who shot himself Sunday afternoon after firing at his estranged wife in Newark.

Meanwhile, the wife, Mrs. Ruby Arnold, 28, is recovering in Alameda Hospital from the effects of a beating, administered by her husband with the rifle butt after the unsuccessful murder attempt.

Officers said Arnold was on bail on charges of threatening his wife last week.

After taking their two children, Kenneth, 8, and Marilyn, 6, for an auto ride earlier in the day, Arnold returned to engage in a bitter quarrel with their mother.

Mrs. Arnold phoned the Centerville sheriff's substation after he left, asking for protection. While officers sought Arnold, he again came to the home at 655 Maple Street, bearing a rifle.

His wife was watering the family cows.

"I looked up, and there he was pointing this gun at me," Mrs. Arnold later told deputies. "He fired, and I dropped to the ground. Then he ran over and started beating me."

She said she screamed, and that her husband then ran behind some rabbit hutchies. There was a shot. Neighbors found him dead.

The two children, oblivious of the tragedy, watched television in the care of a neighbor, Mrs. Edna Spencer. They are now in the care of the Paul Stanfields of Niles.

Back Joint Zone

Support for the townfolk of Livermore and Pleasanton who favor establishment of a flood control-water saving zone jointly with Washington Township was voted Monday by the Township Chamber of Commerce.

On motion of Manuel Hidalgo, Maurice Marks, chamber president, was authorized to attend meetings in the two neighbor towns and back the plan.

Livermore cattlemen have opposed the zone, but the two towns are reported readying a test vote to see if the Supervisors should form the zone.

Dies at 94

Mrs. Elizabeth Cunningham, 94, of Grass Valley, mother of Mrs. J. H. Durham of Irvington, passed away Saturday in the Sierra city.

Chamber Raps Shift In Supe Districts

Hillview Crest is being used as "a stalking-horse for gerrymandering politicians," a Centerville attorney charged Monday night before the Township Chamber of Commerce.

LeRoy Broun said the tract is being duped by "politically-inclined persons" who want to keep Assemblyman Francis Dunn Jr. from becoming a supervisor, if Hayward's George Janssen quits.

The Chamber then authorized a letter to the supervisors opposing redistricting.

Broun's statements were aimed at a current plan to extend Supervisor George Janssen's district to Dry Creek, which would then include Hillview Crest.

Broun asserted the proposed redistricting, endorsed recently by Hayward city council, had come about solely as "the only means to keep Assemblyman Francis Dunn from becoming a supervisor... to move part of the second district out from under him, so that he will no longer live in the second district."

To do that, Broun said, they need to move some southern territory into Janssen's district as an excuse to cut off part of the northern group.

Broun further stated that Supervisor Bartell, in his redistricting proposal, "appears to be seeking islands of Republican votes." He said that Supervisor Chester Stanley had made it known that he will go along with any reasonable form of redistricting upon which any other three of the supervisors will agree, "but they can't agree."

Broun's statements were touched off when Manuel Hidalgo, president of Decoto Chamber of Commerce, sought backing in Decoto's opposition to extension of Janssen's supervisory district and the annexation to Hayward which is currently discussed by Hillview Crest.

A straw vote taken recently in Hillview Crest, which polled a favorable vote for annexation, was described as a "fake" by Hidalgo.

Said Maurice Marks, president of the central chamber: "They (citizens of Hillview Crest) aren't clear in their minds about what they want."

Hidalgo introduced Harold Strauel, resident of Hillview, who is opposed to the annexation. He advised the chamber that a "friendly gesture" toward the tract from Township towns might be well received. He suggested a shoppers' bus service to Niles. "Play soft music to them," he said.

At a Decoto chamber meeting last Thursday Strauel stated: "Hayward's playing it cagey" to snare valuable industrial land west of Hillview along with the 608-home subdivision.

How to simplify the job of painting your barns

You can save all the work of mixing colors if you use Standard Shingle Stain to coat barns or any other unpainted exterior wood surfaces, such as fences and lattice work. It comes, ready to use, in three colors, red, brown and green.

Standard Shingle Stain penetrates, seals the wood pores against dampness and stops cracking and warping. Unlike heavier paints, it will not form ridges on shingle butts to retard water runoff.

Apply Standard Shingle Stain with a brush or by spraying. New shingles can be dipped. Depending on dryness of wood, 1 gallon covers 90 to 125 square feet.

BEARCATS LOSE 2 TO UKIAH ELKS

By TONY ROGERS

A Ukiah Elk nine came from behind in both games of a week-end doubleheader to hand Centerville's Bearcats a double defeat, 3-2 and 10-6.

In the first effort, played Saturday at Ukiah, the 'Cats held a 2-0 lead going into the seventh, when the Elks scored one run. In the eighth the home club capitalized on a pair of walks—the only two issued by Pitcher Frank Romero—plus a double and a single to take the tilt.

In the second affray, at Talmadge on Sunday, the Centerville nine again held a 6-5 lead behind Romero's speedballs until the sixth frame. Then they scored five runs off six hits to sew up the contest.

The 'Cats registered 19 hits in this contest, but they came at the wrong time.

Next Sunday the Bearcats take on Chapel of the Oaks in a 1:30 p.m. tilt at Washington High diamond.

There are approximately 4000 head of Roosevelt elk in Olympic National Park, Washington.

DeYoung Museum, Golden Gate Park, is open daily from 10 a.m.

L&V GETS FIRST LEG ON 2d SPOT

In a loosely-played contest, marred by eight errors, L&V Farm Sales softballers Monday night defeated Rheem Manufacturing Co., 8-7, to take the first game of a two-out-of-three series which will determine League runner-up honors.

Lee Telles hurled the winning effort for L&V, while Ray Orta absorbed the loss. Last week L&V edged Warm Springs 3-2, while Rheem was clobbering U.S. Pipe, 16-0, to enter the playoffs.

Saturday night, the Softball Association holds its annual Players Barbecue at 6 p.m., on the Township Sportmen's grounds, near Mission San Jose.

SAN JOSE NINE NIPS CHAMPS, 1-0

Veterans of Foreign Wars Centerville Ray Lebon dropped a fly ball with two out and a runner on second in the top of the ninth inning, to give the Cal Supply softballers from San Jose a 1-0 decision over the local Township League champs.

Up to the time of the usually dependable Lebon's miscue, the game had boiled down to a tight pitchers duel between the Vets' Ted Garcia and Supply's Pete Sanders.

VFW's Mel Alameda and Stan Roderick picked up two scratch singles in the opening stanza, and that was all Sanders allowed them.

The ace righthander struck out a total of 19 Vets during the contest.

Garcia allowed but seven hits, never more than one in an inning.

READERS WRITE US

Editor, Sir:

May I, as a representative of the Board of Directors of the Alameda County Water District, call your attention to an error in your issue of August 6th, and especially since this error was repeated in an editorial on the 13th. I refer to the verbal report to the Centerville Chamber of Commerce given by our general manager, Mr. Whitfield, on the financial statement prepared for us recently by our accountants.

It seems to us that it was needlessly unfair to so emphasize and repeat the charge that we were making "our first report to the public in 39 years." Moreover, since that statement is entirely untrue, we feel that the seemingly gratuitous rebuke to our Board should be corrected. We have had several such reports prepared in the past, but this one was the first in which we attempted to separate the functions of water conservation from those of water distribution. A confusion on this point may be the reason for the error.

We assure you that we greatly appreciate the policy of frankness and fearlessness followed by your paper, and regret that we have not recently had the opportunity to keep you posted on our problems and policies, as in the past. We hope that we may see you more frequently at our office and assure you that our records are and always have been open to interested persons.

May I add, also, that what seems from your article, to be voicing of a public complaint about a presumed attitude of secrecy by our Board, yet, the humorous fact is that one of the commonest complaints by the Board, for many years has been that this same public shows no interest in what to us seems a most vital job of protecting and promoting the natural assets as well as the future welfare and growth of our community. In helping us to attain these objects we are grateful to the Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations that give us the opportunity for publicity. In no less degree do we welcome frank and constructive criticism by the press, reserving, meantime, our right to "talk back."

Very truly yours,
ALAMEDA COUNTY WATER DISTRICT
W. D. PATTERSON,
President, Board of Directors.

Alameda County huntersmen killed nearly twice as many deer during the first two days of the 1953 season, just opened, than they did in 1952, the State Dept. of Fish and Game reported today. Forty tags were turned in.

PROTEST HILLVIEW BOUNDARY SHIFT

bond obligations in the Decoto school and sewer districts would prevent Hillview from annexing to Hayward.

Manuel White, sewer and school district trustee, suggested taking the issue to the Hayward city officials to talk it over. He added Hillview takes its sewage service from Hayward because he and his fellow sewer trustees declined to saddle the district "with the expense of running a line clear out to them."

Strauel said the supervisors "want to equalize the population in the districts by taking Hill-view out of Chester Stanley's district, which is already the smallest." He called this a "phony reason."

Finally Keith Whipple, backed by Joseph Seane and others, moved that the chamber refer the entire issue to the Township Chamber for a study of all factors involved. This passed.

Hidalgo closed the meeting with a reminder that another confab, this one on sidewalks for Decoto, will be held September 2.

An act of the California Legislature in 1878 authorized creation of free public libraries.

NEWARK, C'VILLE FEUD ON GLENMOOR

we will see a reduction in Newark's tax rate.

3. Insurance rates are cheaper within the Newark District being rated NB class 8 in that area, compared to class 9B in the adjoining Centerville district, a difference of 27½c in insurance rate per hundred on a three-year premium.

(4) Newark Fire District employs men 24 hours a day, while Centerville remains a fully volunteer fire department, that has the Sheriff's Department answer the phone for them.

5. The Newark Department, along with its modern equipment, is radio equipped and in contact with the Sheriff's Department at all times. A STATION RADIO TRANSMITTER AND RECEIVER will be installed with the next 90 days.

6. In the matter of telephone exchange service, if you need the Newark Fire Department and can't phone them direct, dial Operator and give the Department number, Newark 3-3737, or dial Sheriff's office who'll get the department rolling by radio, or other means.

Newark District has now plans to purchase a new 1,000-gallon pumper and we are also considering a site for a second fire station on the east side of town if that area continues to develop.

which will possibly be within one mile of the Glenmoor Homes. All of this is based on a reasonable low tax rate.

"Newark Fire District does not desire to be a party in inter-community squabbles, but feels the right to protect itself against unwarranted and unjustified attacks from groups who desire to encroach into areas that have recently become valuable from a tax standpoint.

"The commissioners and chief of the Newark Fire District will openly and gladly confer at any time with residents of Glenmoor tract involved, to discuss and solve any problems they may have, if any.

"We do not wish to become involved in a controversy with any other fire district in the Township regarding boundary lines but the Newark Fire Commissioners and its Chief feel that the property owners in the Newark Fire District should be properly informed about all phases of their fire protection."

Stranded Travelers Also Helped By Your Donation to United Crusade

(Second in a series on United Crusade services here)

A telegram was received by Travelers Aid Society of Alameda County from the New York Travelers Aid Society.

The telegram from the New York Travelers Aid Society said:

"Mr. H. E. J., aged 62, enroute France found in Grand Central Station, apparently amnesia victim, hospitalized and recovering but doctors recommend return home. Can son, B. H. J., Niles, deposit funds. Baggage and funds lost or stolen."

The Alameda Travelers Aid Society caseworker called young Mr. J., who hurried into the office at 1444 Webster Street, Oakland, to deposit the fare for his father's return.

"We were worried about him making the trip," the son said, "because his memory's been failing somewhat. But Dad insisted he wanted to visit relatives in France, and finally we agreed."

The local caseworker wired the Chicago Travelers Aid Society to meet Mr. J. to supervise his layover of six hours there and place him on the train for Oakland. Mr. J. returned safely to his relieved family.

Many other residents of Southern Alameda County, like Mr. J. and his family, have had reason to be thankful for Travelers Aid Society, an East Bay United Crusade agency which received a $150 allocation from the Washington Township Community Chest this year. (Its allocation from the Oakland Community Chest was $29,689.)

A Washington Township couple was assisted in bringing the husband's widowed mother, who could speak no English, to their home from Italy.

A young widow, needing an operation and time for recuperation, arranged through Travelers Aid to send her 11-year-old daughter to the home of her aunt in Cincinnati for the summer. The confused and ill traveler, children, immigrants, travelers with special problems all find the Travelers Aid lamp in the bus or train station a beacon of hope—and help.

Or, the traveler may merely need to be recommended to a suitable hotel, or helped in locating friends or relatives, or told what bus to take to where he is going. This advice is offered by the helpful Travelers Aid volunteers at transportation terminals. A total of 13,617 such services were provided by volunteers last year.

More complex cases are referred to professional caseworkers. The Alameda County Travelers Aid professional staff of five assists travelers or new residents with problems related to employment, lack of funds, housing, physical health, emotional conflicts and family relationships as well as travel difficulties. Persons and families receiving such help in 1952 totaled 1461.

55 YEARS APART, BROTHERS HOLD REUNION HERE

Two brothers who hadn't seen each other in 55 years were reunited and honored recently by the Niles Rotary Club.

They are Andrew Johnson, 76, of Boston, and John Johanson, 73, of San Leandro, both uncles of Richard Nicklasson, Rotary proxy.

The brothers, natives of Sweden, ran away to sea at an early age, and met for the last time in Stettin, Germany, in 1896. They were reunited at the home of Nicklasson, and later were guests of the local service club.

DECOTAN FATALLY INJURED IN CRASH

Funeral services were held from Berge Mortuary Co. yesterday for Martin E. Martinez, 26, of 316 Fourth Street, Decoto, who died in an Oakland hospital Sunday from the effects of an auto accident August 17.

Martinez was injured when he drove his car off the road and into a tree near Sunol. Still hospitalized is a passenger, Andres Hernandez, 27, also of Decoto.

Martinez leaves his mother, Feliciano, and five brothers and sisters in Decoto. He was a veteran of World War II.

Pioneer Hall of the California houses a large collection of early California mementos.

They are Manuel M. Ayala and Donald Diaz of Newark, Duke A. Parsons of Irvington, Cleatus A. Baugher of Mission San Jose, Ralph Downing of Niles, and Tanjore E. Splan of Centerville.

CENTERVILLE RAPS PARKING HAZARDS

Methods of promoting safety for cars and pedestrians on Fremont Avenue in Centerville are being studied by the safety committee of the local Chamber of Commerce, following criticism by members.

Last Monday, James Browne, Safeway Store manager, agreed it probably will be all right to red-stripe the curb in front of the store, "when we build a new parking lot in the near future."

Browne explained Safeway owns a building next door on which it plans to build the facility to ease congestion in the present lot.

Judge Allen G. Norris declared existing traffic laws, if enforced on the opposite corner, would do much to remove the present hazards by forcing trucks and cars to park properly.

The issue was referred to the chamber's safety committee by Acting President Bill Short.

THE BARTELL-MANDER

Alameda's gift to the Board of Supervisors, Harry Bartell, last week came up with the most astounding suggestion yet, in the rising debate over redistricting the county's supervisorial districts.

The Old Fox of the Island City magnanimously suggested that each city-dwelling supervisor be given a few "islands" of his own to represent in the rural districts, so that "better representation would be obtained." By what process of reasoning Mr. Bartell arrived at this conclusion, he did not make absolutely clear. However, he was quoted thus:

"Some of the districts have certain areas which are definitely anti-incumbent regardless of the kind of job that is being done by the supervisor, and it is important, to secure the proper representation, that an equal distribution of the voting population be placed in each district, so that the best representation may be secured by the vote of the people."

On first examination, this reads like some of the explanations offered by the Mad Hatter, the March Hare, and other characters in Alice in Wonderland.

However, we know Mr. Bartell's politics have nothing to do with Alice's daffy disinterest in the affairs of the world, and we may assume that when he speaks there is a reason for what he says.

The key word appears to be "anti-incumbent." No politico wants to keep a district which votes against him. He would be glad to trade it for another—any other. The less-populated the better, so that his loyal wards can out-vote it if necessary.

Chances of better representation, at least from the standpoint of the voters, would hardly be enhanced in Washington Township by trading pieces of us to a Berkeley, or an Oakland man. Instead of being able to exercise some direct control over our votes, which mean something in sparsely-settled Southern Alameda County, we would lose the power we have to heavily-populated Oakland. And the confusion over who lived in what "island" can be imagined.

Mr. Bartell's idea isn't new. A hundred years ago, politicians cut up the Eastern States to give the most favorable distribution of votes to the men in office. The resulting hodge-podge was christened a "gerrymander," and from this precedent, we probably ought to call the "islands" a Bartell-mander. Or meander away from good government.

CAPITALIZING ON A CROSSING

If it weren't serious, it would be funny to watch the big San Francisco and Oakland dailies scrapping over where the next Bay Bridge shall go.

The Oakland paper was first to enter the lists, and suffered the earliest setback. It wants a parallel span, and the legislators dumped that one. So the East Bay Thunderer retires to a sniper's position, from which it can pot-shot any South Crossing.

Next the San Francisco morning papers charge out. One espouses the Army Street crossing, one goes for Candlestick Point, evidently because its rival wants Army Street.

Waiting for the hearings to start, the giants beguiled themselves by sideline play. One reported with mingled horror and glee that some mysterious person had purchased land at one end of the bridge it opposed. The sinister purchaser was not named, but readers were led to believe it might have been Malenkov.

When the hearings started, one paper was delighted to find that the Navy also would oppose the route it opposed, because the Navy wanted a landing place for jet seaplanes. The rival daily was at first crestfallen, then counter-attacked with a sneer at the sea-dogs in the manger.

If the important Southern Crossing ever gets built, it'll be no thanks to these merchants of opinion. By stubborn insistence on their personal wishes, by bending every fact to suit their policy, their propaganda has obscured the real issues. In the battle of Candlestick Point versus Army Street, nobody has questioned, for instance, whether the muddy bottom of San Francisco Bay will support an underwater tube of the type proposed in so many fanciful drawings. At least one eminent engineer says privately it will not.

There are plenty of other questions to be answered, in the interest of a public which must pay for—and use—the bridge. But they are left unasked and unanswered by the disputants, who thus far have expended oceans of ink and cords of newsprint only to prove that they want to fight their rivals for circulation.

Washington Township certainly has a number of home types, and with more going up every day, it is easy to see why so many folks are moving to this area. The prospective buyer has a choice of almost every kind of architecture in the different tracts. I spent several days visiting the new tracts, and discovered that the majority of purchasers are in the under-forty age group with two or more children. So, with all the house building, we need schools built too.

Pleasant conversation at meal-time is just as important as attractive and tasty food. Bickering and scolding have no place at the dinner table, and a meal is often the only time the whole family gets together at once, so don't mar the evening by reporting all the day's troubles.

If I were to submit a name for the new homes in Niles, I would choose Mortgaged Manor. They will be, won't they?

To keep your garbage can from rusting, melt some of the paraffin you have on hand for canning, and pour it in the bottom. Dip your cleanser cans in a little paraffin to prevent rust marks on your drain board. And finally, dip flower pots and knick-knacks in paraffin to prevent their marking furniture or window sills.

Do the number of doctors moving to Washington Township mean we are all sickly, or that we just want to be healthy?

Speaking of doctors, all you mothers of youngsters going to school for the first time this fall, remember to see that they have a medical check-up prior to the first day. There's not much time left.

Our family favorites include avocados, and we seldom have any left after a meal. But if we do, I spread a thick coating of margarine over the cut edges, and it never turns black.

I envy the Township residents who have purchased "new cars from local dealers" each time I drive my heap on some of the local roads. I will either have to get a smooth-riding auto, or stay completely off such wash-board streets as Baine Avenue in Centerville, or Lincoln Road, near Newark.

So long . . .

MYSTERY MAN WAS BOSS OF HOSPITAL

Last week's Mystery Man was Wallace Pond of Irvington. See if you can guess this week's without recourse to the answer buried in an inside page.

He is a native Alameda County man, born in Oakland in 1896. His grandfather came to California in the '60s, and delivered water in barrels in San Francisco for the Spring Valley Co.

His father took the family to Marin County the day before the 1906 earthquake. There he founded the Marin Municipal Water District. Later his son was to be director of that district.

Our mystery man went to the University of California, and to St. Ignace, studied to be an attorney. But the First World War intervened, and he went to Fort Lewis with the Army for awhile. After that he changed his mind, joined a brother in the trade he now follows.

He ran such a business in San Rafael until 1936, when he sold out and accepted the post of superintendent of the Marin County Hospital.

The experience later was to be a great help to him.

After two years, he again entered private business, coming to Washington Township first to help a businessman here who was ill, at the request of a wholesale house they both patronized. What was his surprise to find the local man was one who had worked for him while attending college!

Now our Mystery Man is chairman of an important Township project, soon to be realized.

He is a Mason, a charter member of San Rafael's Legion Post, a founder of the Marin Rod & Gun Club, which now numbers 2000 members. He attends their annual dinners and is honored as a past president, but says he finds no time now for hunting and fishing.

A widower 25 years, he has a daughter, and a son who works with him, and who has proved to be a successful inventor of a product which they are marketing on a Statewide basis. Guess Who!

The Paraguay River, which rises in the Mato Grosso, Brazil, is approximately 1500 miles long.

SIX LOSE LICENSES

Six Township motorists lost their drivers' licenses last week in actions reported by the State Department of Motor Vehicles. Wendell B. Williams of Irvington was placed on probation for repeated traffic citations, while suspensions for failure to prove insurance after an accident went to Jesus and Ralph Rojas and Harold Martinez of Alvarado; Francisco R. Caro of Decoto, and Leonard Steele of Niles.
